Professional Summary

I am a highly creative cinematographer that is always looking at pushing the boundaries of my craft. My previous experience as a qualified teacher of Media means I have the excellent communication skills required to develop the necessary relationships between directors, actors and crew. I am completely freelance and currently run my own company Country Star Productions through which I not only supply my services behind the camera but can also supply a considerable amount of lighting and camera equipment to clients ranging from Sony A7sii to Red digital cinema. I have experience in Film, TV, Commercial, Corporate and continue to support schools in providing a filmmaking experience. Below is a summary of some of the jobs I have been involved in over the last few years.
